Alumni Board President's Letter

Greetings Brothers,

What an honor and privilege to serve as your Alumni Volunteer Corporation Board President.

We have much to be thankful for as we come to the end of 2023. The chapter continues to bask in its high in May from our 100th Anniversary Celebration. Many of you traveled great distances to take part in this historical event that created a lifetime memory for those who chose to attend the weekend. I want to personally thank the alumni committee members who worked diligently on the numerous details that made this historical event such a resounding success.

Not only was the 100th Anniversary a fabulous alumni event, we also commend the current members of the chapter for again ranking #1 in grades and in receiving KU's "Chapter of the Year" Award for the fifth consecutive year! After receiving those honors in the spring from KU, we traveled to San Antonio, Texas in August for SigEp's 58th Grand Chapter Conclave. I'm proud to report that KU SigEp won the coveted "Buchanan Cup Outstanding Chapter Award", and the "Cornerstone Award" recognizing KU SigEp's Alumni Volunteer Corporation for consistent excellence in maintaining and improving chapter housing.

As we celebrate unprecedented success, we must devote time and attention to addressing issues so we can ensure that KU SigEp continues into the future. The challenge we face, like any fraternity, involves stamping out the "animal house mentality" that has long been embedded into young men by cultures from the past. It pervades in the minds of young men who seek to experience university life as they have seen in movies and heard from fraternity members from the past. We seek to find a balance where young men can have fun in their college environment; however, with zero tolerance policies from the university and SigEp National Fraternity, we need to transform this cultural mindset if we want to remain successful impacting young men for their entire life and for our Red Doors to remain open.

So, I seek your assistance as alumni to join us here at KU SigEp to transform the mindset of future generations. If you have a son or a friend that is considering being a part of this great fraternal history, please help educate them about all the benefits the chapter has to offer, and that life in our fraternity must be lived out as a balanced man by showing and paving the way for future recruitment classes to conduct themselves in such a way that the KU SigEp chapter continues to be rewarded for its character as well as its academics and service.

Fraternally yours,

Gabriel Alvarado

President's Letter

Greetings KU SigEp Alumni ,

Sigma Phi Epsilon at the University of Kansas is doing great!

We're very proud to be KU's "Chapter of the Year"... again, five years in a row! We're ranked first among KU fraternities in grades, and we've been the largest fraternity at KU for decades. We're a leader on campus, and a philanthropic leader in the community. We were excited to be selected to perform in Rock Chalk Revue last year with Pi Phi - winning seven awards and raising the most money in support of Willow House!

In addition to "Chapter of the Year" we also received the following awards from KU:

- "Outstanding Academic Performance"
- "Outstanding Community Awareness"
- "Outstanding Leadership & Campus Engagement"
- "Outstanding Risk Reduction & Management"
- "Outstanding Member Development & Education"
- "Outstanding House Director"

In addition to these KU Greek Community awards, KU SigEp was awarded the coveted Buchanan Cup at SigEp's 58th Grand Chapter Conclave in San Antonio, TX this summer. This is SigEp's highest award for Outstanding Chapters across the country. We are very proud and honored to receive these awards and are always looking to recruit 'balanced men' who can help us continue to the success of our chapter.

Each of our alumni helped lay the foundation for SigEp's successes today. We appreciate our history, and we appreciate your continued support as an alumnus today!

Please know that you're always welcome at KU SigEp! Rock Chalk Jayhawk!

Fraternally,

Alex Everhart '25

Alumni Spotlight: John Owen

John Owen '99 is the President and CEO of Airshare. Airshare, headquartered in Overland Park, Kansas, is one of the fastest-growing private jet companies in the country and currently sits as the fifth largest overall, maintaining the highest level safety ratings. Airshare offers a holistic suite of private aviation services, including aircraft management, fractional ownership, jet cards, charter, and maintenance. Airshare works with a diverse clientele, encompassing public companies, business owners, corporate executives, and high net worth individuals.

We asked John to answer the following questions about Airshare, and about his days at SigEp:

Founded in 2000, Airshare has had rapid growth. What are some of the key factors that fueled that growth?

Airshare has always been focused on the customer experience. We never grew just to grow. It happened naturally as we provided an exceptional level of service. Customers then tell their friends and family, so most our clientele come from referrals. However, we did just complete a significant acquisition of Wheels Up's Aircraft Management business that doubled the size of our business. So what once was started as a small two aircraft operator about two decades ago, is now 600 employees with a 150 aircraft fleet of private jets that operate internationally. It's been a fun ride, but we feel we're just getting started.

We hear a lot about the increased use of Data Analysis in sports, how does Airshare use data analysis in its business decisions:

Currently, it's a huge part of how we operate and determine growth strategies. Up until a few years ago, we did very little data analysis. I originally started at Airshare in late 2016 as its CFO. We quickly began digging into the data and have been investing heavily in building out various data platforms and performing significant systems integration. Over the last few years, we completely rebuilt our executive management team with individuals who are heavily focused on relying on data to make decisions. As we have scaled, we knew a concentration in data aggregation and analysis was crucial to our growth and ensuring we continue to grow intelligently while always providing the best service in private aviation.

Attracting talented employees has become more and more competitive. What kind of culture do you promote at Airshare to make it attract and retain employees?

We are a very transparent group. We also heavily rely on our Core Values of Communicate, Collaborate, Innovate and Celebrate. At the center of all those is Act with Integrity. We consistently talk about how we like operating as an idea factory. There is a lot of interaction between all departments and all levels of the organization to help ensure we're making decisions based on the best information. We believe working here shouldn't feel like a job. We like to have fun too!

How much fun has it been to have the Kansas City Chiefs as customers and to have a partnership with Patrick Mahomes?

It's obviously been great! We've been working with the Chiefs for about a decade. Having been born and raised in Kansas City, it's been a lot of fun for me. Whether it be taking members of the management team to and from the NFL Combine or being involved in flying in the last minute trade and free agent signings, our team at Airshare has an enormous sense of pride in helping contribute to their success. In regards to Patrick, we signed him before his first full season as a starter hoping he'd be a great advocate for our business at a local level. He quickly exploded into the NFL and is now an international brand ambassador for us. We also love what he stands for. He is such a great guy on and off the field, and we couldn't have asked for a more perfect partner.

Your family... wife & kids?

My wife and I actually met at KU in an Introduction to Public Relations class, so she had the full SigEp experience. I missed class the day we picked teams for our group project, but I told Cory Gourley, who was one of my pledge brothers, to find a good group of girls for our project. Who knew my future wife would be one of those girls. Strange how things work out. We now live in Leawood, Kansas, and have three awesome and active children: Carter (15), Ainsley (13), and Graham (10).

As you think back to your years at SigEp, what good memories come to mind?

Too many to count. We spent A LOT of time at The Bull! Played a lot of basketball on the court behind the house. I say all the time that if someone would let me go back and relive those four years, I'd do it in a second. My close friends remember this, but I came very close to leaving KU after my first semester. Some pledge brothers convinced me to stay and now my best friends are still my fraternity brothers from the house.

Who was the Housemother when you were there?

Mittens Crow

Were there any upperclassmen that you particularly looked up to?

We had a great group of guys ahead of us. Jeff Auslander and Paul Stiglic took me out on a night to remember the first time I was introduced to SigEp. From that point on, everyone was really great. Brandon Hunter, who was my pledge dad, is now my family's optometrist. Jake Barnes, who was a couple years ahead of me, is now my Hallbrook Cup (member/member) partner at our golf club, which I'll mention we won this past year. I still run into random upperclassmen and we always have a great time reliving old stories.

What was it like being back at the house for the 100th Anniversary Celebration in May?

It was so much fun. Everyone did their best reliving the old days and there were so many stories, many of which I had forgotten. I'd do that every year if we could. The house was almost unnoticeable. They're living pretty good these days. We slept in a sleeping dorm with bunk beds that would sway all night and it wasn't uncommon to wake up with snow on you from the window being open in the winter. They've done some great things with the house and it'll be exciting to see how it continues to improve over the years.

What advice would you give to a new member as he embarks on his four years at SigEp and KU?

Soak it in! It'll probably be the best 4+ years of your life. We still reminisce about our times there. There is so much time to figure out your life. I had no idea what I wanted to do when I graduated, and it all worked out. Make friends, have a few beers, and savor your time there. Who knows, maybe you'll meet your best friends for life and even come out there with your wife! The experience I had at KU and SigEp had so much influence over my entire life. I wouldn't trade it for anything.

Meet KU SigEp's Longest-Serving Housemother...Mom Sally!

Sally Voth-Company, hired in 2006, is in her 17th year as Housemother ("House Director") at KU SigEp.

Sally is the longest serving housemother in SigEp's 100 year history! She brings a wealth of knowledge, experience and "motherhood" to the undergraduates, and she is integral in helping the alumni manage and improve the facility. Thank you Sally for your time, dedication, sacrifice and hard work in helping make SigEp what it is today... SigEp's undergraduates and alumni are forever grateful!

Mom Sally!...

Where were you born & tell us a little bit about your family and upbringing?

I was born in Newton Kansas, the third of four siblings. We moved to Tucson Arizona when I was eight and then back to Kansas when I was thirteen. We traveled a lot during summer vacation, and by the time I was twelve, we had visited every state in the US except Alaska and Hawaii, and we had traveled in Canada and Mexico. I got bitten by the travel bug in my early childhood, which explains how I ended up in Europe for 35 years.

Prior to SigEp, where did you live and what was your profession?

I traveled through Europe before starting my Ph.D., ending up on the island of Tenerife (Canary Islands, Spain) where, the very first evening on the island, I met the man I would marry. The earth shook, so I stayed and had maybe the first destination wedding ever, and over 35 years became a wife, mother, homemaker, and businesswoman. Divorce came, and then when my three sons left home for college, I decided to return to the United States to spend time with my elderly parents and aunt. Since I wanted to stay active, my sis (housemom at a KU sorority) offered to set up interviews for me. My only stipulation was that I wanted something that would allow me to travel home to be with my family at Christmas and some of the summer. Little did I know she was setting up interviews with KU Greek houses. I was very skeptical, and the first two interviews pretty much convinced me that this was NOT going to be my calling. But the third time's a charm, and after interviewing at SigEp I felt like maybe I could do this Housemom thing after all. I'm so glad I stepped out of my comfort zone with SigEp and that SigEp chose me to be their housemom... and here I am 17 years later!

What were you most surprised about when you first became SigEp's Housemother in 2006?

There have been lots of challenges – learning everyone's name (especially that first year when all 86 members were new to me), getting used to the noise level in the house, keeping the house clean when members did the cleaning and there were many MANY Sigma Saturdays at the house in those days (my shoes would stick to the floors until about the following Wednesday).

What do you enjoy the most about your role as House Mother/Director?

There have also been immense rewards – I get to be a mom to every member, I get to know them (my candy jars are a big help), laugh with them, converse with them, celebrate their successes, sympathize with them, care for them, give them the loving support they need (which sometimes includes tough love), learn their likes and dislikes, and discover their interests. I get to watch them grow from boys to men, giving positive influence where I can to encourage them to become the best person they can possibly be. I get to stimulate their independence by teaching them to sew on a button or iron a shirt (although I have done those things for them when circumstances dictated). It is very fulfilling to participate in their lives and to give them a mother's love and care.

How has the Chapter evolved over your 17 year tenure?

The Chapter has changed a lot over the 17 years I've been here. There is less emphasis on partying, and more emphasis on maintaining a high GPA. There has been a big change in the way we care for our Chapter house. We should thank our dedicated Alumni Board of Volunteers for constantly improving our physical facility and providing an ever more comfortable house, which has also allowed us to compete for top recruits. The Alumni Board keeps a finger on the Chapter pulse, offering guidance, and encourages leadership and accountability by allowing the Chapter to make their own decisions. We can also thank our chapter presidents and their execs over these years for excelling at keeping us on track to become balanced men and campus leaders. I know that sometimes it's like herding cats, but year after year they strive for and reach that goal. I am immensely proud of our Chapter leaders throughout the years and of our members, who have worked together to achieve the distinction of being named KU's "Chapter of the Year" FIVE years in a row!

Any final words or comments?

It has been a privilege, a blessing, and an honor to be a part of the KU SigEp family. I treasure my time here, the friendships formed, and I look forward to helping in whatever I can in the future. Congratulations to the Brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon on your 100 years at KU!

Bill Self Inspires and Delights as Keynote Speaker at KU SigEp 100th Anniversary

On May 6, 2023, the KU SigEp Alumni and their esteemed guests had the privilege of witnessing a remarkable keynote address by none other than Bill Self. The occasion marked the 100th anniversary of the KU Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, and Self's speech was nothing short of inspiring, humorous, and filled with wisdom.

As the head coach of the University of Kansas Jayhawks men's basketball team, Bill Self is no stranger to leadership, and he had a powerful message to share with the SigEp community. He kicked off his address by acknowledging the specialness of SigEp, saying, "SigEp has something special going on." This statement set the tone for a speech that highlighted the fraternity's unique character and its remarkable journey over a century.

Self's address wasn't just about basketball or sports; it was about leadership and involvement. He emphasized the importance of commitment and teamwork, drawing parallels between the fraternity and his experiences in coaching. He shared stories of how his players had to work together, trust each other, and show leadership both on and off the court. These lessons were not only relevant to the young students in the audience but also resonated deeply with the alumni, who undoubtedly appreciated the wisdom from a seasoned leader.

One of the most delightful aspects of Self's speech was his ability to bring humor into the room. He had the audience in splits with witty anecdotes and lighthearted stories from his coaching career. His humor served as a valuable reminder that even in the face of challenges, a little laughter can go a long way in uniting people and strengthening bonds.

Self's words were more than just a reflection on the past; they were a call to action for the future. He encouraged the fraternity members to continue their journey, upholding the values and traditions of SigEp while adapting to the ever-changing world. He reminded them that the bonds formed in SigEp could last a lifetime and serve as a support system in the years to come.

Bill Self's keynote address at the KU SigEp 100th Anniversary was a memorable and impactful event. He inspired the audience with his words on leadership, involvement, and the unique spirit of SigEp. His humor lightened the atmosphere and left everyone with a smile on their faces. As the fraternity enters its second century, the lessons from Bill Self's speech will undoubtedly continue to guide and motivate its members on their extraordinary journey.

KU SigEp Scholarships

Memorial Scholarship

A group of alumni from the late 60's and early 70's have taken the lead in forming and funding the recently announced "KU SigEp Memorial Scholarship Fund."

Donations to the fund by individuals or era classes in memory of brothers that have passed will be permanently recognized under the honored brother's name on the Memorials Page at kusigep.com.

The KU SigEp Memorial Scholarship Fund will provide annual scholarship support for undergraduate brothers of KU SigEp, and formally awarded at our scholarship dinners.

Having raised over $60,000, the fund has already reached the level to be permanently endowed and actively generating scholarships. The fund is held at KU Endowment Association. Donations can be made directly to the fund at KU Endowment, PO Box 928, Lawrence, KS 66044-0928.

Derek Bridges Scholarship

An endowed scholarship in memory of KU SigEp Derek Bridges '91 has been established by a group of his SigEp Brothers.

Derek, a former SigEp Recruitment Chairman and SigEp Chapter President, passed away in September 2022. He was a good friend to many SigEps. He leaves behind four children, including his KU SigEp son Andrew Bridges '21. At KU, Derek was honored to be elected President of KU's Interfraternity Council.

Professionally, Derek served many philanthropic organizations, he was a board member for both public and private companies, and held many prominent C-Level positions. He had a great sense of humor & wit -- he was someone that could always be counted on.

SigEp was near and dear to Derek's heart. In memory of his eternal friendship, his SigEp Brothers have established this scholarship to support SigEp undergraduates that exemplify the same qualities that defined Derek. One of Derek's favorite lines was: "What is Possible?". The donors want this scholarship to honor SigEps that demonstrate "what is possible" in making a difference at SigEp, on campus, and in the community.

The $5,000 Derek Bridges Scholarship will be awarded each year in perpetuity. The fund has currently raised over $100,000. You can join in supporting this scholarship at kusigep.com/donate.

Newly Announced KU SigEp Scholarships

Craig Templeton Scholarship

A group of SigEp brothers and friends from across the globe have created the “Craig Templeton Leadership Endowment” at the SigEp Educational Foundation in recognition of Brother Templeton’s exemplary service to Sigma Phi Epsilon at the local and national level.

Craig Templeton, a former KU SigEp Chapter President, graduated and moved to Richmond, Virginia to serve the national fraternity in various positions. Eventually Craig was elected Chief Executive Officer of Sigma Phi Epsilon National Fraternity, serving for ten years from 2000 - 2010.

Among Craig’s accomplishments as Executive Director, he produced ten consecutive annual increases in membership and retention. Government Relations successes include the passage of the Collegiate Housing and Infrastructure Act to amend the U.S. Tax Code. He planned and executed a $30 million capital campaign for the SigEp Educational Foundation. In six years under his leadership, risk management initiatives led to a 55% reduction in insurance claim losses and a 39% reduction in insurance premiums.

A Craig Templeton Scholarship recipient will be among the best and brightest students at KU, and will meet these criteria: A high school top 10% ranking with a leadership position in a club, activity or sport, or a KU 3.5 minimum Cum-GPA with involvement in a student organization, club, or varsity athletics. Preference will be given to students who have had a serious illness or accident, or who have financial need. The standards are high, but these standards are fitting for a scholarship named for Craig Templeton, a man whose service has brought honor to our beloved Chapter and Alma Mater. You may support this fund with donations to the KU SigEp Craig Templeton Scholarship at SigEp Headquarters. Donations in excess of $37,000 have already been made in support of the scholarship.

IBTF Scholarship

At SigEp’s 100th Anniversary Banquet a group of KU SigEps that graduated in the early to mid-80’s announced a new “IBTF Scholarship” to annually honor SigEp’s “Outstanding Junior Class Member”. This group began an annual summer trip in 1980... the trip is now in its 43rd straight year. This scholarship is in honor of the memories and friendships that the group has formed through their SigEp experience. The new IBTF Scholarship already has donations in excess of $51,000 in endowed funds, and will be awarded for the first time in April 2024.

Natural Ties

KU SigEp has had a special involvement with the Natural Ties program since 1990. Natural Ties' Mission is to foster friendship and inclusion between individuals with and without disabilities among KU Students and local Natural Tie individuals. KU SigEp has had the privilege of having a friendship with Brian Davidson ("B.D.") for almost 35 years.

That's 35 years of B.D. telling a bad joke every Wednesday at Chapter Dinners!
