

KANSAS GAMMA ACHIEVES NATIONAL RECOGNITION FOR NATURAL TIES

Pop Quiz. Can you name the honorary member that has outlasted three housemothers, two cooks, and any number of house dogs and cats? The answer, of course, is natural tie Brain Davidson. Davidson has been a fixture at the Ep lodge and on October 9th he celebrated his fifth birthday as a natural tie at Kansas Gamma. "Actually I can tell you the exact time in which it was, it was at 4:00," Davidson reminisces. "I will always remember that fateful day back in October of 1989."

The Natural Ties program at Sig Ep has been exceptional throughout the years largely due to the commitment of Davidson. Natural Ties is a program that began at the University of Kansas in 1989 to promote friendships between mentally challenged people and fraternity and sorority members. The program has since spread to campuses throughout the country. At a national convention of the Natural Ties program, Kansas Gamma was honored as the best Natural Ties program in the nation. "For me this is quite an honor but it is all possible because of the strong friendships that I've made at Sig Ep. I love hanging around the house because there is always someone to talk to," Davidson said.

Davidson has been to the national convention for the past two years that is held in Chicago. This year Natural Tie representative Jon Fike made the trip with Davidson.

"It was a very enlightening experience. I had always thought of Natural Ties on a local level, like just here at Kansas Gamma," Fike says. "It was cool to see the far-reaching effects that it has on a national level."

The convention is held to give all the natural ties and representatives a chance to observe others like them and perhaps compare their programs. In addition, it serves as a gauge to see how the program is doing nationwide.

"It was great to see all the people that I had met last year and to see how they were doing. And it's great to see other natural ties from around here in a different setting," Davidson said.

After ran-sacking the Windy City, Davidson returned home and turned his attention to expanding Natural Ties at the University of Kansas. Davidson has been instrumental in the development of a Natural Ties program at several other fraternities on campus.

"Natural Ties is growing at KU. It's gotten a lot bigger since I first became a natural tie five long years ago," Davidson said. "More people have gotten involved and that's great to see because it is such a positive program when run right."

Davidson can facilitate a new Natural Ties program in a number of ways but the most common and effective way is through his friends at Sig Ep.

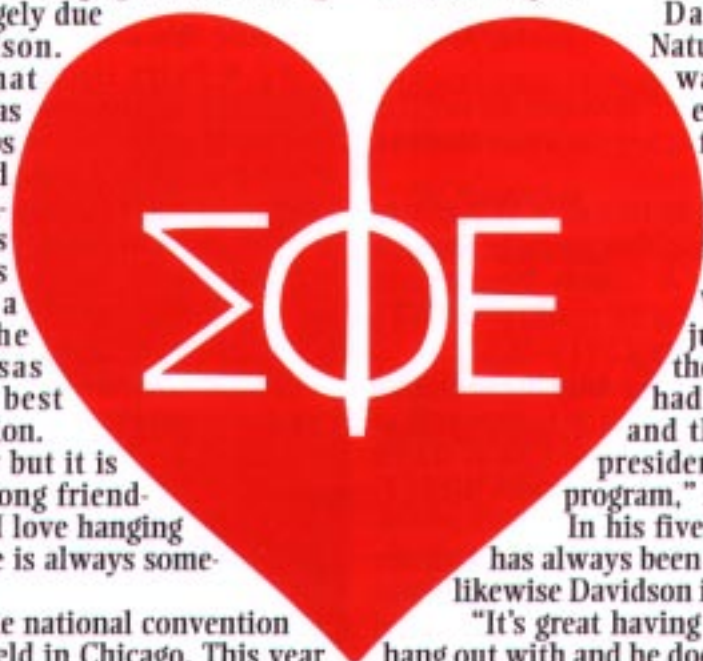

"What I normally do is find someone in our house that knows a lot of people in another house. For example, Jamie Walker (Omaha, Nebraska junior) is really good friends with the president of Phi Delta Theta. I had Walker talk to their president and then I will briefly talk to their president to get him familiar with the program," Davidson explains.

In his five years at Kansas Gamma, Sig Ep has always been very important to Davidson and likewise Davidson is important to the Eps.

"It's great having him around. He is really fun to hang out with and he does a lot to help the house. From a community service stand point, it really shows how Sig Ep tries to give back to the community. But more than that, he has become a vital member of the chapter. He was here when I got here and he'll probably be here well after I've gone," Olathe freshman Rob Dyson said.

When thinking about what about the program makes it so successful, Davidson can only answer that, like the name indicates, its natural.

"It works because it so natural. It runs naturally. It's all about making friends and what could be more natural than that. I think about all the friends that I have made through the years, it all came so naturally. That is why this program is so successful and why it will continue to grow."

BROTHER GRAY HONORED AS OUTSTANDING ALUM

At the 1995 Carlson Leadership Academy in St. Louis, Tom Gray, '77, received a Distinguished Alumni Award from Grand President Mike Williams. Brother Gray has served the fraternity since his graduation as an alumni board member, board president, and chapter counselor. He is currently the Sigma Phi Epsilon District Governor for the Kansas-Nebraska region in addition to his role as alumni board president. Thank you Brother Gray for your support of Sig Ep!

CHAPTER BRIEFS

BMS CONTINUES ITS SUCCESS

Build it and they will come. Offer a scholarship and they will apply.

After three years, the Kansas Gamma Balanced Man Scholarship is really beginning to pay off for the house. This past year was the most successful one to date in terms of the number of applicants, quality of applications and benefits for recruitment.

"I was amazed at the numbers of inquiries we received," commented Jeff Auslander, Balanced Man coordinator. "The candidate pool was also top of the line."

The Balanced Man Scholarship is awarded annually to the high school senior in Kansas who demonstrates the qualities of a truly balanced man. One must excel in academics, athletics and leadership.

After reviewing all applications, Auslander and the BMS committee traveled across the State to interview finalists. All finalists were then invited to a luncheon on campus to announce the winners.

The 1995 recipient was Ryan Jones. He has since signed with Sig Ep and will move into the chapter house this fall. Brother Dale Seufferling '77 was the featured speaker at the event.

ZIMMER NAMED REGIONAL DIRECTOR FOR 1995-96

Brother Kevin Zimmer, '95, was named one of thirteen regional directors for Sig Ep for the upcoming school year. He will be assigned to a territory, most likely outside the Midwest, later this summer. Brother Zimmer will spend the year on the road visiting chapters in his region, helping answer questions, solve problems, and evaluating chapter programs. Zimmer was the Kansas Gamma president in 1993. Best of luck to Brother Zimmer as he carries the flag of Kansas Gamma throughout the country.

MUDD RECEIVES ACCOLADES

Brother Dan Mudd, '96, was elected president of the KU Interfraternity Council last November. He served as president of Kansas Gamma in 1994. Mudd was also honored at the 1995 Carlson Leadership academy in St. Louis. He received the prestigious Zollinger Award. Because of his leadership and activities, Mudd's legacy will live on through a Zollinger scholarship that is awarded to a junior leader in the recipients chapter. Brother Matt Meusey, '97, has since been awarded the scholarship. He will receive $400 in both his junior and senior years at KU. Congratulations go to Brother Mudd and to Brother Meusey.

SIG EP TAKES STAGE AT 1995 ROCK CHALK REVUE

As the curtain and the smoke cleared, eleven months of hard work was finally unleashed. The men of Sigma Phi Epsilon and the women of Kappa Kappa Gamma performed "A Hair Erasing Experience" at Rock Chalk Revue 1995.

Rock Chalk, which took place February 24-26 at the Lied Center, consisted of five twenty minute original musical productions. The shows were each performed by a fraternity paired with a sorority. All proceeds from the show went to the United Way of Douglas County.

For Sig Ep, it all started in March, 1994, when the chapter decided to ask the Kappa's to join them in their quest. John Mondt, Jr., director, explained, "We prepared for several days, then the whole chapter traveled to the Kansas Gamma in Rock Chalk Revue 1995!

Kappa house for a serenade. We weren't too concerned with how we sounded, but instead with our level of energy." Mondri thinks that this first effort was the spark that got the show going. "It was really neat, and I felt really proud that both chapters came together to accomplish something. The Talent just came out of the woodwork," Mondri added.

Fourteen different pairs entered the competition in November. At the end of the month, only five groups prevailed. On January 12, the practicing began. The 44-member cast of Sig Eps and Kappas practiced a minimum of ten hours a week for six weeks.

The show's story line involved a bald-headed madman named Chromedome, played by senior Steve Davis, and his evil scheme to make the world bald. Chromedome tried to take over the Hair Divine Shampoo Factory. The Salon-Superheroes arrived to "save-the-day"...but amidst the confusion, Chromedome found his way to the shampoo vat with his hair-eating potion in hand. Just when Chromedome's evil plot was about to become reality, two figures from his past, Rogaine and Minoxidil, arrived to give Chromedome the bath of his life.

"We were brainstorming at the annex and someone got the idea about a bald scientist," Davis said. Jason Kort, recent graduate and Sig Ep, was credited with the idea and said, "hey man, the idea just popped in there. I think if you have an impulse, go with it man."

The 44 person cast was the largest of the five acts. "We had a great time getting acquainted with all the Kappas. We probably spent as much time having fun away from the show with the whole cast as we did practicing," said Mondri. "by the time the show was over, we were a very close group."

The reviews of the act were very pleasing to all the cast members. "I didn't hear a bad thing about it. I can definitely say that our group unity is the reason for that," Davis added. Libby Swed, Executive Director for Rock Chalk '95, said, "what made their show so great was the fact that their cast had so much fun together. They weren't hung up on beating the other shows. It showed on stage that they were having fun."

1994-95 PLEDGE CLASS EXCELS IN THE CLASSROOM

With many seniors living in the house this past year, the 94-95 pledge class was smaller than usual with only 24 members. Of that, 19 exceeded the 2.4 GPA needed for initiation. In fact, the average GPA of the new initiates was 3.0, the highest average mark in some time.

"I tried to stress grades as much as possible. I mean that is why we are up here," said Brothhood Development Chairman Bill DeWitt.

Apparently something that DeWitt did was pretty effective. When asked what he thought was the most important way to teach the importance of academics, DeWitt claimed leading by example.

The pledge class featured ten men over a 3.0 GPA led by Kansas City freshman Rob Flynn who checked in with a 3.75. The top five rounded out like this: Mike Donohoe, Overland Park sophomore, 3.56; Chris Murray, Omaha, Nebraska sophomore, 3.5; Ryan McNeel, Overland Park freshman, 3.43; and Paul Stiglic, Overland Park freshman, 3.31.

EXECUTIVE STRUCTURE FOR SIG EP UNDERGOES CHANGE

In another attempt to keep pace with society and especially the business world, Kansas Gamma has devised a new executive structure. The Sig Eps are continually showing the importance of adapting to society and improving its view of fraternity life. More progressive new member programs, increasing community service projects and now a new system of leadership is "in" at Kansas Gamma. In response to increased concern about the treatment of new members and the basic "Animal House" stereotype, now fraternities will try to modernize, much as big business has. And, once again, Sigma Phi Epsilon and especially Kansas Gamma continue to lead the path of change. To give an accurate and easily understood analysis, its more effective to go through the system position by position.

President

In the new system, the President's role is, for all intents and purposes, the same. As in the past, the President is responsible for most of the relations with the chapter and the rest of the university. Apparently former president Dan Mudd did an effective job because now he is Interfraternity Council President. In addition to representing Kansas Gamma at various university functions, the president must make sure that all is going well at the chapter. Along with the new executive structure, each exec member is responsible for several cabinet positions. The president is responsible for the IFC representative.

Vice President of Programming

The V.P. of Programming is the second in command. His most important responsibility is supporting the president. He is vital to the president in the passing of legislation and the gathering of chapter sentiment. The V.P. of Programming, along with the president, share the presidential suite. Along with supporting the president in all decisions, the V.P. of Programming is also responsible for the day-to-day operations of the chapter. The internal structure of the chapter, social events, and intramurals are the main concern of this vice-president. As one can see, he is considered the leader in chapter relations and the president is considered the leader in university and community relations.

Vice-President of Recruitment

This position is nearly the same as the Recruitment Chairman from the past. The only difference is that the V.P. of Recruitment is now an executive member. This allows the V.P. of Recruitment to be directly involved with the decisions that affect the chapter and will undeniably affect recruitment. In the past there had been two Recruitment Chairmen but in the current system there is now a V.P. of Recruitment and a Balance Man Scholarship Chairman. The two work very closely in all aspects of recruitment, but the primary focus of the Balance Man chairman is the Balance Man Scholarship which involves interviewing potential winners of the scholarship and, in addition, potential Sig Eps. The V.P. of Recruitment has no other cabinet members reporting to him because of the importance of his position. The absence of any other responsibilities allows him to devote as much time as possible to recruiting quality new members. The V.P. of Recruitment is likely the most important executive position.

Vice-President of Membership Development

This is a relatively new position at Kansas Gamma that encompasses a variety of old positions. The V.P. of Membership Development's primary responsibility is overseeing the new member program. Working in conjunction with the Brotherhood Development Chairman, the two determine the path of the new member program. Such duties include watching over study hours, running all rituals, and being a liaison between the active chapter and the new members. The V.P. of Membership Development is also responsible for the various community service activities in which Eps participate. These include a yearly highway cleanup and organizing numerous trips to the Lawrence Boy's and Girl's Club. The cabinet positions under the V.P. of Membership Development include the Brotherhood Development Chairman and the Community Service Director.

Vice-President of Alumni Operations

As the title would indicate this position is basically the same as the Alumni Operations Director of days past, except now it has the "cool" vice-president title. The V.P. of Alumni Operations is charged with the responsibility of handling all Alumni activities including the organization of Homecoming, writing and editing the Gammarama, and various other activities. He serves primarily as a liaison between the Alumni and the undergraduates in the house. Another responsibility of the V.P. of Alumni includes public relations. Along with his cabinet member, the two promote the chapter throughout campus and the community. This entails sending out holiday and summer cards to other fraternities and sororities and working with the Community Service Director to promote all the charitable events that the Eps are involved in. The only cabinet position under the V.P. of Alumni Operations is the Public Relations Director.

Vice-President of Finance

Widely considered to be the most difficult position in the chapter, collecting money is never easy. The position is basically the same as the old comptroller's position. The most obvious and important responsibility of the V.P. of Finance is the collection of housebills and various other monetary sums, which pay for everything from food to social events. As we all know, money is often what makes the world go around and Sig Ep is certainly not void of that need. The V.P. of Finance is really the "nuts and bolts" of the executive committee. Under his control are such things as the food and maintaining the cleanliness and structure of the house. Two of the V.P. of Finance's cabinet positions are the Kitchen Manager and the House Manager. Also supervised by the V.P. of Finance is the Party Favors Director who is responsible for designing and ordering all party favors.

Chaplain

The Chaplain is the only executive position not to be awarded the title of vice-president. He is responsible for promoting and maintaining chapter morale often through the use of retreats. Traditionally the Chaplain organizes one chapter retreat each semester. He is also responsible for running Review Board and Standards Board. Standards Board is a relatively new idea that allows a group of brothers to discuss a member's conduct that has been deemed unacceptable. This new idea has been an effective step in the dilution of unbrotherly conduct. In addition to these responsibilities, the Chaplain also serves as a liaison between the House Mom and the chapter.

In the ever-changing business world, working well in group situations has become increasingly important. The new executive structure at Kansas Gamma allows the brothers an opportunity to hone their skills before entering the work force. In addition, the new system insures that objectives are achieved quicker and better. It all adds up to a better Sig Ep!

THE EP LODGE:
1645 TENNESSEE

FROM THE PRESIDENT:

Kansas Gamma has again achieved many of its yearly goals. The first of which was academics. We earned a all-house GPA of 2.85, which was good enough for seventh on the Hill. We also compiled over 850 community service hours over the past school year and were rewarded with a silver medal at Rock Chalk Revue. In addition to the Rock Chalk community service involvement, the house also won the privilege of performing in the annual show. Along with the women of Kappa Kappa Gamma, Kansas Gamma put in many hours of hard work to put on a top notch performance. We were also number one on the Hill in manpower and expect to keep that honor next year due in part to our success in recruitment this past year.

The men of Kansas Gamma are anticipating a great year ahead. We are growing on a firm foundation and are adding one of the best pledge classes to our numbers. Our goals get loftier every year with our sights set on KU's Chapter Excellence Award and the coveted Sig Ep Buchanan Cup.

We would like to thank all of our alumni for the support that you have given us this past year. We have strived for many goals; some of which we have reached, some of which we will reach in the near future, but without our alumni support none of them would be achieved. So for all of us at Kansas Gamma at the University of Kansas, thank you to each and every one of our supportive alumni.

Fraternally,

Matthew W. Kennedy

GAMMARAMMA

HIGER

A LETTER TO THE SIGMA PHI EPSILON COMMUNITY

June 1, 1995

Dear Brother,

As reported in the last issue of the Gammaramma, our friend and Brother, Chris Harper, Class of 1989, was killed last year in a tragic plane crash. Many of us were very close to Chris, and we all respected and admired him for our own reasons.

It has been suggested that a scholarship would be a lasting and appreciated tribute to Chris Harper's memory. After discussing this with several of the alumni, we have founded an Outstanding Member scholarship in Brother Harper's name. This scholarship will be presented annually like the Tim Findley award and recognize the outstanding active member for his contributions to the house. To date we have received over $2,000 in contributions.

This award will benefit all Brothers of Kansas Gamma. For the active members, it will reward excellence in academics and leadership. For alumni, it will serve as a lasting tribute to our friend and Brother, Chris Harper.

In the coming months, you will be receiving a letter with more details on how to support the fund. If you wish to donate now, contributions should be sent to Dale Seufferling c/o The KU Endowment Association, P.O. Box 928, Lawrence, Kansas 66044. Checks should be made to the KU Endowment Association with Harper Scholarship written in the memo. The Endowment Association is a charitable organization so please check to see if your employer will match or double your funds.

On behalf of the Chris Harper family, we want to thank those of you who have already contributed and thank you for your future pledges. If you have any questions, please call Paul Burmaster at (913) 648-3220 or Juliana Harper (913) 642-8913.

With Highest Regards,

Juliana Harper and
Brother Paul Burmaster '87
